Subject: Summer School Services

Whenever classes are held on Fridays during summer semesters, there are issues involving the availability of some services.

On the Bryan campus especially, many classes extend past 5:00 p.m. Traditional closing times for important facilities such as libraries, learning centers, computer labs, and those for food services do not reflect the need for these services after 5:00 p.m. (See attachment.)

At its regular meeting in January, the Faculty Council voted unanimously to request that the hours for these facilities be extended on Fridays in summer semesters to treat Fridays as any other instructional day.

Summer school services:

Problem: Our students and faculty are expected to treat the Fridays during summer school when classes are scheduled to meet exactly as any other class day, but they do not receive the same support services on those days.
