

EXTRA CREDIT OPPORTUNITY

By now, you know something about me. The more I know about you, the better I may be able to help you this semester. Here is an opportunity for you to make a few E-Z-XTRA credit points. It is not required but, if you do it, it is worth ten (10) points.

For ten points, I would like to know:

Who you are and what section are you in?

How can I best get in touch with you if I need to?

Where do you come from?

What kind of school did you attend?

What kind of scholastic activities caught your interest?

Why are you taking this class (be honest)?

What do you hope to get out of it (the class)?

What do you hope to do in your life?

What do you like to do in your own time?

What things have you read, or like to read?

What problems do you think you might face in this class?

And

Please mention anything else you would like to tell me about yourself that might help me better understand you, your dreams for the future and your problems.

If you choose to take advantage of this extra credit assignment, please type your response and bring it to me next week.
