YOUR FIRST-YEAR GUIDE TO SUCCESS!

BLINN COLLEGE DISTRICT
ACADEMIC ADVISING GUIDE
Welcome to the Blinn College District and the Buccaneer family! This guide will provide you with information most pertinent to new Blinn students. Transfer policies and procedures vary among institutions, so we recommend strongly that you meet with a Blinn academic advisor and an advisor from the institution to which you intend to transfer to confirm transfer requirements for admission.

Academic Advising – How to Contact Us

Academic Advising

After you have completed any necessary testing, Academic Advising is here to assist you with selecting the right courses for your career, transfer, and life goals. We also provide information relevant to a successful college experience.

Academic advisors can assist you with selecting and changing majors, program planning, credit transfer issues, withdrawals, dropping a course, and degree requirements. Advisors are available to discuss non-academic issues and may refer you to other student support services such as the learning or writing centers, math labs, tutoring, disability services, financial aid, or personal counseling.

Advisor Responsibilities:
- Effectively communicate Blinn curriculum, graduation requirements, and policies/procedures
- Refer potential transfer students to their desired colleges and universities
- Provide guidance in fulfilling Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board Core Curriculum requirements for transfer to public colleges and universities or graduation from Blinn
- Assist you in discovering your aspirations and interests to solidify your career goals
- Refer you to campus resources that support your academic journey
- Ensure you are satisfying academic, degree, and college requirements

Student Responsibilities:
- Trust your advisor to help you select the best courses for your interest and future career
- Come to advising appointments prepared, having already turned in necessary admissions documentation and test scores
- Have ready any questions about your classes and college career
- Complete a preliminary internet search about what you would like to do or which college or university you would like to attend
- Complete a FERPA Release Form if you want your parent/guardian to speak to Blinn staff/faculty on your behalf
- Come to your advising session with questions about your major, classes you wish to enroll in, and how courses fit your major

How to Prepare for an Academic Advising Session
To aid in the process of determining appropriate course selection, you should:

- Know your test status
  - Are you exempt from testing based on ACT, SAT, or STAAR scores?
  - If not, have you taken the state’s placement exam, the Texas Success Initiative assessment (TSIA)?
  - Did you pass all sections? Will you need refresher coursework or do you plan to retest?
  - Did you attend an institution of higher learning? Your transfer credit may qualify you for an exemption (this includes dual credit coursework).
  - Did you serve in the military? Your service in the armed forces could exempt you.

- Have a career field in mind
  - What career or job choice(s) are you considering?
  - How will your career or job choices link to a major?

- Are you interested in a Blinn technical or vocational program?
  - www.blinn.edu/twe/degree_cert%20plans/worksheets.htm

- Do you plan to follow an academic track and transfer to a university or four-year college?
  - www.blinn.edu/academics/degrees.html

- Have you reviewed degree plans for your chosen major at the university’s website?

As a new student, you should meet with an academic advisor as soon as your exemption and/or TSIA scores are available. One of the first opportunities to register is during an Advising Day. Your advisor will ask three specific questions (among others) to help guide your course selection:

- What is your career choice?
- Where do you plan to transfer after Blinn (if applicable)?
- What Blinn degree plan most fits your career choice?
- What dual credit or AP credit was earned in high school?

Your answers to these questions will help the advisor suggest the correct course work to help you achieve your desired goals. If you are not sure of the answers to these questions, your advisor will suggest that you follow the Texas Core Curriculum until you identify your intended major. The Core Curriculum transfers well to any college or university degree in Texas. If you did not meet the college readiness standards on the TSIA placement test or other college entrance tests, refresher (pre-college level) course(s) must be completed until you finish the course sequence showing you are college ready in the areas of reading, writing, or mathematics.

Know the Five “R”s of Advising

Reflect:
Academic advising should bring together personal, career, and academic interests. The more aware you are of your own interests, goals and academic abilities, the better equipped you will be to determine what academic courses are right for you.

Review:
Before you seek out an advisor, familiarize yourself with graduation or transfer requirements and resources available to you. Write down specific questions that you might have for the advisor regarding your career path.

Record:
You should keep the following in a personal advising file, in either paper or electronic form:

1. Advising worksheets and degree audits you have reviewed with an advisor.
2. Transfer guides you received during your first advising session.
3. Transcripts or grade reports from other colleges – including dual credit courses and AP reports.
4. Copies of all petitions for change of major or other forms that you submit, as well as the response(s) you receive.
5. All letters and correspondence you received from the College.

Repeat:
Because of its complexity and importance, you should seek advising regularly to assist you in making appropriate academic decisions. It is recommended that you meet with an advisor before registering for your first semester. Schedule appointments around the middle of September or first of October and at the middle of February or first of March to plan the next term’s classes. Advisors’ schedules fill quickly during these peak times, so please schedule appointments in advance!

Remember:
You are responsible for your academic decisions. Blinn offers a wide range of resources to help you make the right decision regarding your academic pursuits, but ultimately you must decide what is best for you.

Unsure of a major or career?
It is okay to be uncertain of your major or career field. Many students begin their academic journey without selecting a major. Let us help you discover your academic and professional interests!

CAREER ADVISING
With the help of your advisor, you can research future careers as early as your first semester with a number of resources available at www.blinn.edu/advising/career_services.html.
Texas Core Curriculum

Core courses are all academic (non-elective) courses and are not satisfied by classes taken in high school unless they were dual credit classes taken through a college or university. The Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board requires all undergraduate students at Texas public colleges and universities to complete a determined set of 42 credits to be eligible to receive an associate or bachelor’s degree and satisfy the core requirement.

Core Complete:
The purpose of the core curriculum is to ensure that Texas students “develop the essential knowledge and skills they need in order to be successful in college, in a career, in their communities, and in life.” Once a student completes 42 credit hours of the core curriculum, mandated by the institution at which they are currently attending, they are identified as “core complete” at all public colleges and universities in Texas. Please know that some majors at transfer institutions may require additional courses as pre-requisites for the intended major. Your academic advisor at your transfer institution will assist you in determining whether your intended major has any needed pre-requisite courses you should consider.

Breaking Down Classes in the Core Curriculum:
Each component area lists specific classes to fulfill that area. For example, the Communication component requires 6 credit hours, which means that students should choose two of these 3-credit hour courses: ENGL 1301, ENGL 1302, or ENGL 2311

- ENGL is the abbreviation of the subject (English)
- 1301 is the course number
  - The first digit represents the level of the course: 1 = Freshman level or 1000 level
  - The second digit represents:
    - The number of hours spent in the class each week during the semester
    - The credits you earn upon successful course completion
  - The last two digits pertain to the course sequence.

Blinn students are assigned a catalog according to the semester they enroll. The catalog provides information regarding the history of the Blinn College District, course descriptions, and other helpful information pertaining to your enrollment. You are encouraged to review the online catalog for current information at http://catalog.blinn.edu/.
Degree Works

For advising purposes, your advisor uses a program called “Degree Works” to help map out your course selection each semester. During your advising session, your advisor also will provide notes for recommended alternative courses in case your first choice is unavailable. You may access this program through your myBlinn portal by selecting this icon:

The important components of Degree Works are the ability to:

1) review your major worksheet,
2) review the Educational Planner(s) created for you,
3) process your term grade point average (GPA) with the GPA Calculator, and
4) complete a What-If Audit to see how completed coursework would be affected if you were to change your major.

The following is a sample Educational Planner created during a typical advising session:

Before you register for classes....

We recommend that you check your registration status on your myBlinn account by finding the blue tab named “My Holds.” If you see a warning message similar to the example below, you may not be able to proceed with registration:

NOT a Hold – 6 Drops Remain.

All incoming freshmen enrolled for the first time at any Texas public college or university are limited to six course withdrawals (drops) during their academic career. Drops include those initiated by students or faculty and withdrawals from courses at other Texas public institutions. This policy does not apply to courses dropped prior to census day, i.e., the Day of Record, or complete withdrawals from the Blinn. You do not have a registration hold when you see this statement and can proceed with registration.

If you happen to have one of the following holds you cannot register until the matter is resolved with the appropriate office:

• CQ or EQ: Your admissions file is missing a college or high school transcript
• BO: You have a past due balance that is owed to the Business Office (for example, a parking ticket, library fine, or unpaid tuition & fees)
• TQ: You are enrolled in a refresher course(s) and must be advised each semester until you complete the developmental sequence.
• QQ: Blinn does not have any record of student test scores.
Logging into MyBlinn

New Student FAQs

Majors:
Q: What should I do if I cannot decide on a major?
A: In most cases, it is okay to be undecided regarding your major. While at Blinn, you are working toward completing the Core Curriculum requirements. You also are taking pre-requisite courses necessary for transfer into your four-year institution. Here are three situations when your major does matter:
1. You plan to graduate from Blinn, especially for those seeking an associate degree or certificate.
2. You plan to reverse transfer and graduate from Blinn.
3. You are using GI Bill or Hazlewood Act benefits to pay for your coursework. Please tell your academic advisor if this pertains to you.

Q: Why doesn’t my major at Blinn match the major at the university where I plan to transfer?
A: Majors at Blinn are designed to be applied to multiple four-year institutions degree plans of similar content. The goal at Blinn, if you plan to transfer before completing your two-year degree, is to complete the core (which must be accepted at any public institution in Texas), and complete the pre-requisites for your intended major.

Q: What types of degrees does Blinn offer?
A: Blinn awards Associate of Arts (AA), Associate of Science (AS), Associate of Applied Science (AAS), Level 1 and 2 certificates, and occupational skills awards. AA and A5 degrees are typically used for transfer to four-year universities, while AAS degrees and certificates are applied toward successful entrance into the workforce. Transferable credits from an AAS degree consist only of core curriculum courses unless the student plans to complete a Bachelor of Applied Arts and Sciences degree (BAAS).

Q: How can I transfer in less than a year?
A: This depends upon the minimum requirements of the university you are interested in attending. It is important to know that transferring is a GPA race and not a credit race. The higher the GPA, the higher your odds of acceptance into the major of your choice. Be aware of the application deadlines for the institution you are interested in attending after Blinn. Most deadlines are prior to receiving your final grades for the proceeding semester.

Q: How do I enroll in a Health Science program at Blinn?
A: Prospective vocational or registered nursing, radiology technician, dental hygiene, physical therapy assistant, surgical technician, and veterinary technician students must take prerequisite courses before applying to their respective programs. Admission to Blinn College does not guarantee admission to these degree programs. Additionally, several of these majors require attendance at an information session prior to application. Please see www.blinn.edu/tue/degree_cert%20plans/worksheets.htm or speak to your advisor for additional information.

Coursework
Q: Will this class transfer?
A: Transferability of coursework differs by school. Your advisor will use their best judgment based upon the institution to which you intend to transfer. However, it is your responsibility to ensure that the courses you take at Blinn will transfer to your future institution within your desired degree. Transfer students are strongly encouraged to contact the school they plan to attend to discuss their transfer course plans.

Q: How can I use my AP/dual credit?
A: A student must earn 6 credit hours at Blinn before AP credits will be applied to a Blinn transcript. Please send an official copy of your AP scores from the College Board along with the Application for CLEP/AP Credit (www.blinn.edu/admissions/CLEP_AP_Application_for_Credit.pdf)

Dual credit students must have their official college transcript sent from the college/university where they earned their credits (even if they were taken on-site at your high school) before dual credit courses will be applied to Blinn.

Q: Can I eliminate my dual-credit GPA?
A: Only credits earned 10 or more years ago can be eliminated from your transcript. This process is called Fresh Start, and even then, students must meet specific criteria before any grades can be expunged or deleted from their college record. Fresh Start does not affect any previous financial obligations you may have.

Q: Can I still take classes at the college where I earned dual credit once I start taking classes at Blinn?
A: You certainly can. It is suggested that you verify with your advisor which class(es) will transfer to back to Blinn. You also must send an updated official transcript afterwards.

Q: Why do I have to take developmental/non-credit courses?
A: The State of Texas requires all public college or university students to take the Texas Success Initiative Assessment (TSIA) to determine college readiness unless they possess certain exemptions (SAT/ACT/standardized test scores). Advisors use the results of this exam to place students into the courses they are prepared to take for success in college. Although developmental courses do not count toward degree requirements, they help bridge any gaps between your high school curriculum and collegiate level courses. Furthermore, they often help prevent failure in future classes. A student cannot graduate from a Texas college or university without being college-ready according to TSIA scores, exemptions, or completion of developmental courses.

Q: What are credit hours?
A: Each college course has a “contact hours” requirement that specifies how much time you spend in the classroom with the professor. The number of credit hours indicates the typical number of hours per week you will be in class. You can determine the number of credit hours for a course by looking at the second digit of the course name. Ex: ENGL 1301 = 3 credit hours; GEOG 1403 = 4 credit hours

Q: How many credit hours or classes should I take?
A: This answer varies according to students’ academic history, outside commitments, and financial aid status. To be eligible for federal financial aid, a full-time student must take at least 12 credit hours per semester (typically 4 classes). This is what Academic Advising recommends for first-time freshmen with no prior college credit, as it allows students to adjust to college-level coursework. Students may take up to 18 hours, but this is an extremely heavy schedule that can impact academic performance. Many students believe they must take 15 hours in order to graduate “on-time,” but there are many opportunities to earn 30 hours per academic year (16-week sessions, 12-week sessions, 8-week sessions, minisemesters, summer sessions, etc.), so it is not essential that students take 15 hours in their first semester.
Q: Why are there prerequisites to a particular course? I took those in high school.
A: High school and collegiate level courses are very different. Though you might have taken a class in the same subject area in high school, it is not transferable to your college or university curriculum (unless it was a dual-credit course offered through a local college). Prerequisites ensure that you have the base knowledge necessary to complete the course(s) you take in subsequent semesters.

Q: What is an elective?
A: The term “elective” simply means a course that a student may choose to take rather than having it mandated by their degree plan or by Texas. Every major has a certain number of elective credits to use for classes an individual views as beneficial for their lives or future goals. Students should not be afraid to take elective courses as they see fit, but use them wisely. See “Excess Credit Hour Rule” in the Blinn Policies section that follows. Requirements of the Core Curriculum are not elective credits, although you may have certain options of which classes to take in order to meet Core Curriculum requirements.

Q: What math/science class should I take?
A: It depends on your major. Math, Life Science, and Physical Science are core curriculum areas required by Texas. However, the classes that are acceptable in these areas vary by major. For example, students pursuing STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) fields must take different math and science classes than Liberal Arts or Business majors. Deciding on your major will determine the correct pathway within these core areas.

Q: How long will it take to finish a class?
A: At Blinn, students can register for 16-, 12-, or 8-week Fall and Spring courses, 4- or 8-week Summer I and Summer II courses, and 3-week May or Winter Minimester courses.

Blinn Policies

Q: Can I drop a course? How?
A: Students can drop courses prior to the deadline. Please consult the Academic Calendar at www.blinn.edu for all registration and drop dates.

Before a session/semester starts: Students may add/drop courses until the day before classes begin. Refunds are 100%. First day of an accelerated or late start session: Add/drop is possible. Refunds are 70% if classes are dropped. First two days of a 16-wk session: Add/drop is possible. Refunds are 70% if classes are dropped.

Day of Record/Census Date: Courses dropped prior to this day do not appear on your transcript. Please refer to the Academic Calendar for refund amounts, if any.

After the Day of Record (before the last day to Q-drop): Courses dropped will appear on your transcript as a Q. A Q-drop is an emergency drop provided by the state.

There is a 6-drop limit on Qs (although some colleges and universities may further limit that) for your entire undergraduate career.

Last Day to drop with a Q: Courses dropped after this date will be recorded as an F. This results in the usage of one of your six drops and a grade of F towards your overall grade point average.

NOTE: If life circumstances prevent you from attending classes, you must officially withdraw from the College District by providing written documentation to explain your need to leave school. Withdrawing is recorded as a W on your transcript and does not use your emergency Q drops.

Q: Can I repeat a course?
A: Students may retake courses, but the outcome of that differs. Blinn uses the highest grade in a repeated course (one time) to calculate the student’s overall GPA. At some universities, including Texas A&M, all attempts are averaged into the GPA used for admission. Please contact your desired transfer institution to confirm how they calculate transfer GPAs. Additionally, the State of Texas penalizes students at public colleges/universities for taking courses three or more times (except in cases of refresher classes or other special needs courses). Colleges and universities refer to this legislative action as the 3-Peat Rule. At Blinn, students are assessed an additional $50 per credit hour fee per third or greater attempt at a class.

Q: What is the Excess Credit Hour Rule?
A: The State of Texas penalizes students who take 30 hours beyond what is required for their declared major(s). At Blinn, the penalty is an additional $50 per credit hour more for each course beyond that requirement.

Q: What is my GPA (Grade Point Average)?
A: Blinn College does not utilize transfer coursework in calculating your GPA. Therefore, your Blinn GPA shows only the courses you take at Blinn College. Your GPA as it relates to transfer admission will vary if you have taken college courses at other institutions. Please contact your desired school for the formula used to calculate their entrance GPA requirements.

Graduation & options

Q: What is reverse transfer?
A: Reverse transfer allows students who have completed at least 30 hours at the junior college level to earn their associate degree after transferring to a college/university. Earning an additional degree is just one more advantage to beginning your collegiate education at a community college. Please ask your advisor for more details.

Q: Should I graduate from Blinn before I transfer to a university?
A: The answer depends on the major and the university where you wish to complete your bachelor’s degree. Completion of a degree at Blinn requires at least 60 hours, or what is in most cases 50 percent of a four-year degree. Please consult the department at your desired transfer institution to determine whether this is acceptable. The majority of majors do accept associate degree holders. However, if your major prefers students transfer earlier, please consider reverse transfer as a way to earn your AA or AS degree from Blinn.

Q: How do I know if I am on track to graduate?
A: Students can and should always visit the Advising Department to ensure they are taking the right courses, but they also can see their current major and credits in their myBlinn account under Degree Works/Degree Audit.

Q: How do I graduate with an associate degree?
A: We suggest that your speak with you advisor one more time so that your Degree Works Worksheet can be reviewed to verify all credits needed for your associate degree have been earned. Your advisor also will verify that you have fulfilled the residency and TSIA requirements. Once that has been completed, log into your myBlinn account and click the Apply for Graduation icon.
